

Scale the MOUNT EVEREST of golf courses with your very own GOLF SHERPA

Now that you have enjoyed watching all the pros play at the Masters it's your turn to have an unmatched golf experience yourself, but this time you will be playing!

The Pete Dye protégé and designer of
"Dyeabolical Experiences"
Jeff Klaiber

In 1991 the Ryder Cup was played at The Ocean Course at Kiawah Island, South Carolina and was dubbed "The War at the Shore." The event raised this international team golf match to the frenzied height of golfing competition it is today. Three rugged days of tension filled matches was decided by one missed 5-foot putt. This is your chance to experience this Dye-abolical track before the PGA Championship returns in 2021.

Playing a Pete Dye masterpiece and Ryder Cup venue, including ten holes routed along magnificent beachfront, a beautiful barrier island sanctuary, and the highest course rating in the United States, is a bucket list item for sure.

When your playing partner is a golf course architect, Pete Dye protégé, and your personal Golf Sherpa, you are in for the experience of a lifetime.

Join your Gritty Golf Guide, for a behind-the-scenes look at the architectural genius of The Ocean Course. Learn how a list of remarkable challenges tested Pete while all eyes of the golfing world watched his progress in anticipation of the fast approaching Ryder Cup. Preserving delicate beach and marshland environments, harsh growing conditions, howling winds, alligators, and one of the most destructive hurricanes in South Carolina history couldn't stop the "Marquee de Sod."
